The Peoinsula Postoffice.

Editor Cleveland Plain D-aler:-The

Editor Cleveland Plain Dealer;—The following appeared in the Cleveland Leader a few days age:
Leander Beers, a copper-head and a coal oil Democrat, has been appointed postmaster at Peninsula. Summit county, in place of Fred W Boies, a Democrat, but not a partisan. This is only a small office but it clearly shows that the office, but it clearly shows that the "offensive partisans" are the ones who are rewarded. It also shows the shallowness of the Damocratic civil service re form profession.

Mr. Boiss was appointed by President Arthur, and was backed by Colonel Con-Arthur, and was backed by Colonel Conger; I desire to say it reply to the Leader article that Mr. Beers secured his appointment through perfectly fair and legitimate means, the principle of which was a patition signed by twenty-five of the best representative Democrats in that vicinity. In regard to the cry of "copper-head," if that is part of the work of a politician, or if such epithets applied to an old neighbor and citizen will hurt a man, then Mr. Beers is perfectly willing to bear the title, and he is also willing that the public should compare his political and moral record with that of the ejected postmaster or his Republican friends who are making such a hue and cry over his removal. Such flings as appeared in the making such a hue and cry over his removal. Such flings as appeared in the Cleveland Leader may have a very loyal spread eage appearance to strangers but on the friends of Mr. Beers who have known him nearly all his life (for he has been a resident of Peninsula for nearly fifty years) they will fall with little weight. The Democrats so far as heard from are all jubilant because of the change, and the very fact that the former postmaster (Mr. Jackson) and his Republican relatives are so much con-Republican relatives are so much con-cerned about the political welfare of Mr. Beers is one very good reason for his removal by a Democratic administration. There are several facts connected with the securing of signers to his petition, and also the manner of the appointment of Beers, that are pertinent to the case, but we will not discuss them here por the postoffice department has looked the matter over carefully, and as a result of their conclusions a change has been made. Thanking you for the courtesy of the above space.

We make the treatment of chronic diseases a specialty, and soli-it those of a lingering, difficult or doubtful character, because thus we can demonstrate cursus experior facilities for curing them. Where patients have been ucsuccessfully treated by others, we cordially invite them to call upon us, or to write to us. There are many cases that have, without success, used every form of patent medicines, thinking thereby to save a physician's fee; others who have paid vast amounts of money to their home physician or druggist, seeking in vain for relief; others again, who are disheartened and discouraged of ever being cured; to all such we extend a hearty invitation to consult us, either personally or by letter. Their case will always command prompt at ention. If we find their case hopeless and be yond the sid of human skill, we will frankly tell them so, and would scorn to receive a fee from them without being able to render them any assistance. If, how ever, we believe, upon examination, that they are curable, we will distinctly state.

What we can do for them. It is to cur interest to give an honest opinion, as our repulation is at stake and we make and maintain that reputation by actual cures repulation is at stake and we make and maintain that reputation by actual cures and find is a serious injury to us, therefore it is essentially necessary for us treat and fall is a serious injury to us, therefore it is essentially necessary for us treat and fall is a serious injury to us, therefore it is essentially necessary for us treat and fall is a serious injury to us, therefore it is essentially necessary for us treat and fall is a serious injury to us, therefore it is essentially necessary for us treat and fall is a serious injury to us, therefore it is essentially necessary for us treat and fall is a serious injury to us, therefore it is essentially necessary for us treat and fall is a serious injury to us, therefore it is essentially necessary for us treated under our care and throughout treatment.
